Please pardon our delay in sending out an update; there has been quite a lot of activity in our spaces and that has required attention and decisions. We are happy to report that work is moving along!

Exterior Dining and Entrance Site Work

Lots of progress here; site work teams have ripped out the old, uneven sidewalk in front of the first row of parking and we used the opportunity to run water, power and Ethernet to our forthcoming garden space. This work now will allow us to have lights, Wi-Fi and an irrigation system for our planting beds.

The Solarium space is also being prepared by the masonry teams for beautiful windows that will be installed in the upcoming weeks. The sunlight and views will certainly improve our residents' living experience. We are looking forward to the solarium's completion!

Our team has also been working with a landscape architect to finalize plans for a new swing arm gate that will greatly enhance the main entrance to our campus; pictures and renderings to follow in upcoming memos.

Dining Space/Display Kitchen

Take a look at these before and after pictures of our main dining space. These images really tell the story about the amount of work put into this space.

If you look at the picture on the right, you can see a series of red and white taped lines. These are hiding something truly amazing.

Under the tape there is a maze of copper foil which will act as a conduit to carry signal for our hearing loop, a generous gift from a donor and friend of The Towers. We are grateful!

Any time we use a microphone in this space, the signal can be broadcast directly into a hearing aid or a set of wireless headphones. Gone are the days of “what did Gus just say”?

We also have significantly updated the speaker systems in the areas as well. Custom speakers will send clear sound when we play music, do live cooking demos and have presentations.

Lastly, just a small matter here; but take a look at the brand new display kitchen pictures on the right side picture. Each side of our kitchen will now have a full induction burner cooktop, warming and cooling trays and a built in plate warmer. The culinarians from Morrison can't wait to begin demonstrating their skills for all to enjoy.

Upcoming Work

So much going on; this is going to take a few lines:

- Lighting has arrived and there are teams of electricians working to install the new lights
- Laminate Vinyl Flooring (LVT) is arriving the week after Thanksgiving and will be installed over the freshly skim coated hearing loop
- The display kitchen is being finished; wiring, plumbing, etc.
- Acoustic Ceiling Tiles can be installed after a final lighting inspection
- Glass is going into the two windows above the new Solairum
- Brand new HVAC equipment is being installed for the Dining and Solarium spaces
- Metal Framing for the two sided fireplace inside the Solarium is scheduled
- Data wiring will be run to support new cameras and wireless access points for our new secure Wi-Fi network

We'd also like to take a moment invite everyone to come down to our newly renovated Convenience Store as well; new shelves were brought in to house a dedicated Kosher section and a healthier snack choice section.

There is also now a standalone sundry vending space, that houses over the counter medications and some toiletry items.

Wishing you and yours a wonderful Thanksgiving Holiday.
